

AGREEMENT FOR RECEIPT AND USE OF
NYSE PROPRIETARY DATA PRODUCTS:
ADDITIONAL PROVISIONS

20. ACADEMIC INSTITUTIONS.

(a) ACADEMIC INSTITUTIONS. NYSE shall determine in its sole discretion whether Customer qualifies as an "Academic Institution" for purposes of this Agreement.

(b) REDISSEMINATION. If Customer qualifies as an Academic Institution, Customer may provide one or more NYSE Proprietary Data Products to its professors, students and researchers for legitimate research, study and other academic purposes at the rates applicable to professors, students and researchers. Customer may so provide a product to a professor, student or researcher only if NYSE has notified Customer (by such means as NYSE may specify) that the professor, student or researcher has entered into an appropriate subscriber agreement with NYSE that authorizes the receipt and use NYSE Proprietary Data Products. Customer may not so provide NYSE Proprietary Data Products to any professor, student or researcher on a commercial basis.

(c) OTHER ACADEMIC INSTITUTIONS. Customer may provide one or more NYSE Proprietary Data Products to another academic institution at the rates applicable to academic institutions, subject to the following requirements:

- (i) NYSE must first have determined in its sole discretion that the academic institution qualifies as an "Academic Institution" for purposes of this Agreement; and
- (ii) NYSE must have notified Customer that the academic institution has entered into an appropriate vendor agreement with NYSE that authorizes the academic institution to receive and use the NYSE Proprietary Data Products.
